

FABIO

ITALIAN RYEGRASS

Introduction

Fabio is a tetraploid Italian ryegrass with excellent yield. Fabio can be seeded as a pure stand or under-seeded to a cover crop for late season production in higher moisture areas. As a certified Italian variety, it does not set seed in its first year of production, enhancing its palatability and overall forage quality. It is a fast growing, leafy, high quality annual grass delivering high yields and excellent forage quality. Fabio has shown vigorous establishment, rapid regrowth and excellent digestibility. Complimented by a strong disease package, Fabio has good resistance to mildew and rust.

Recommended seeding rate is 15-25 lbs per acre.

Key Characteristics

Excellent Yield

Rust Resistance

Very Good Mildew Resistance

Excellent Establishment

Excellent Forage Quality

brettyoung.ca/fabio-ryegrass
1-800-665-5015

BrettYoung[™]

BrettYoung[™] is a trademark of Brett-Young Seeds Limited.