

Erik Dyck Chief Executive Officer

Erik is BrettYoung's CEO, and he's grown up in and around the business. At BrettYoung, Erik's been a summer student, a Regional Account Manager, a Regional Sales Manager, Forage and Turf Product Manager, and the Director of Business Development before stepping into his current role. He's also sat on our Board of Directors, is a Director on the Kali Dyck Foundation and a volunteer board member with DASCH Inc. Erik has a Master of Business Administration with a specialization in Food and Agribusiness from the University of Guelph and a bachelor's degree in marketing from the University of Western Ontario. His roots in agribusiness have instilled in him a keen understanding and respect for the industry. Outside of the office, Erik enjoys kiteboarding, snowboarding, golf, running, fishing, the Winnipeg Jets, and travelling. He and his wife have three daughters under five who they spend most of their time with.

Cory Baseraba Chief Operating Officer

Cory has been with BrettYoung for 18 years as our COO. He has an Industrial Engineering degree from the University of Manitoba and has been a professional engineer for more than 24 years. Cory is the former Vice President of Operations for a major pharmaceutical manufacturer and a former Business Consultant with Deloitte and Touche, where he specialized in operational and supply chain diagnostics and transformations for growth. Cory is an energetic leader with a passion for continuous improvement, process design, factory design-builds, and major machinery installations to increase efficiency and capacity. He enjoys motocross, snowmobiling, wakeboarding, fishing, travelling, and spending time at the cottage with his wife, three boys, and their pup, Willow.
